Three AMR Employees Awarded for Outstanding Service to El Paso County

Colorado Springs, CO, May 1, 2006 – Three employees of American Medical Response (AMR) received awards at the Plains to Peaks Emergency Medical and Trauma Services Region Dinner on Saturday, April 29, 2005. The award ceremony recognizes individuals who have gone above and beyond in providing emergency medical service to their community throughout 2005.

Cattie Calloway – Career Paramedic of the Year
Neal Lynch – Career EMT of the Year

Cattie and Neal were awarded for their immediate diagnosis and treatment of a patient who was suffering an aortic aneurysm. Because of their quick thinking and rapid intervention the patient survived this life threatening condition and went on to make a full recovery.

Laura Saenz – Emergency Medical Dispatcher of the Year

Laura was awarded for her outstanding performance as the lead training instructor for the AMR Southern Colorado Regional Communication Center. Laura was instrumental in revamping the training center as well as assisting the communication center with accreditations and dispatcher continuing education.

The mission of The Plains to Peaks Emergency Medical and Trauma Services Region is to facilitate and improve the delivery of quality emergency medical and trauma services throughout El Paso, Teller, Lincoln, Cheyenne and Kit Carson Counties.

American Medical Response Inc., (www.amr.net) America's leading provider of medical transportation, is locally operated in 35 states. More than 18,000 AMR paramedics, EMTs and other professionals transport nearly four million patients nationwide each year in emergency, critical and non-emergency situations. Operating a fleet of approximately 4,400 vehicles, AMR is headquartered in Greenwood Village, CO.
